Cookingham of Humphrey who made a short enthusi astic speech saying that he was glad to see so many of the staunch, true repub licans present, and declaring that the party never had brighter prospects for electing their candidates, and he believed that the "Grand Old Party" would nominate men who would go forth to victory in the fall.

D. N. Newman, secretary of the con vention, read the call and the regular business was then taken up.

Garrett Hulst nominated William Smith of Lost Creek township for tress urer, introducing him to the convention as a man who was always a loyal repub lican, who had lived nearly all his life in this county, whose reputation for honesty would assure the public that their funds would be handled with care and he would administer to their wants wit greatest pleasure. Mr. Smith was chose by the convention by acclamation.

Dr. Frank of Monroe placed the nam of Harry Lamb of Burrows township before the convention as candidate for the office of clerk of the district cour and the rules were suspended and he was nominated by acclamation. Mr. Martin was then called upon for a speech to which he responded, putting forth the importance to the people candidates. R. J. Stinson of Fremont and J. G. Reeder of this city were then chosen unanimously for the republican candidates for district judges.

Judge Stinson was called to address the delegates. In his speech he stated that he was not altogether surprised by the action taken by the delegates. His friends had found elements of a judge in him and presented his name. He realized that this was one of the highest judicial honors that the republicans of the district could confer upon anyone and he would use all honorable means by which to secure his election although this is not considered a republican district. He gave assurance that if elected. his partisanship would stop at the polls.

Judge Reeder then responded to calls for a speech, saying that it was customary on such an occasion for candidates to give excuses for their nomination, but that he had none to offer. During an acquaintance of twenty years he had part of the patrons to keep the road noticed many qualities in Mr. Stinson which are characteristic of a good judge. The people want as a judge a man who will not be swayed by political influence, a man clean and pure in judgment. He hoped for a harmonious and clean campaign, one that would be of no injury to the defeated candidates.

The selection of the judicial committee men was left to the choice of the candidates, who will be given instructions to fill any vacancies which might occur.

The committeemen selected were Jay C. Jeffers, Central City; C. Kramer and W. A. McAllister, Columbus: George W. Wertz, Schuyler; John M. Groeder, Fremont, and J. W. McClelland, Nance to a farm.
